Student Blast Shakes 3 States

CORNING, Ark. (AP) — A boxcar loaded with 175mm artillery shells mysteriously exploded near here early today with a force felt in three states.

The predawn blast gouged a crater 50 feet long and 15 feet deep in a railroad siding three miles north of this northeast Arkansas town.

The explosion, felt in Arkansas, Missouri and Tennessee, ruptured a natural gas line and forced the evacuation of several hundred Corning residents before the gas was shut off.

One house was demolished by the explosion and fire. Walls of two others were caved in. Only one person was injured, not seriously.

John Hutchinson, secretary of the Corning Volunteer Fire Department, said the fear of more explosions kept firemen from battling the fire in the wreckage.

The gas leak, which existed for about two hours, could not be repaired because it, too, was near the fire, Hutchinson said.

Deputy Sheriff Jess Watson said the artillery shells exploded as the car stood on the siding to which it had been pulled to clear the main line for another train.

The flattened house was unoccupied at the time.

Cause of the explosion was not determined.

It came at 2:48 a.m., shattering downtown store windows three miles away and rattling houses in surrounding towns.

The 80-car Missouri Pacific Lines freight train, loaded with munitions and chemicals, was bound for the Red River Arsenal at Texarkana on the Arkansas-Texas border.

It had pulled onto a side track to let another train pass on the main line, MOPAC officials said.

Owners of the destroyed home, Mr. and Mrs. C.M. Rappert, were in St. Louis, deputy county collector Jess Watson said at the sheriff's office.

A half mile from the blast, Mrs. Glenda McGuire awoke to the crash of the explosion and was cut on the feet by flying glass. Her injuries were termed not serious.

Fire companies and civil defense crews from within a 50-mile radius responded to the town of 2,565 to fight the fire.

The blaze is near a rice storage and drying elevator, serviced by natural gas, and officials said they halted fire fighting efforts because of an unconfirmed report of a natural gas leak and the danger of more explosions from munitions and chemical tanks.

The area around the fire was cleared, but no evacuation of Corning residents was made.

The state patrol at Poplar Bluff stated the explosion was felt as far as 25 miles north of Corning, with at least six large windows being broken.

Bogus Hart checks were passed at Al's Tavern, Chaffee; Long Branch Tavern, and Rainbow Cafe, in Scott City for a total of $200.

The four charged are Edwin Burnett, 49; Joseph Burnett, 51; and Benn Freiner, 39, all of St. Louis, and David Shaffer, 27, of Springfield, Ill.

The men are being held for Cape Girardeau county authorities after disposition of the charges at Hannibal.

Bill Burlison, Cape Girardeau county prosecuting attorney, said that he has sent warrants to Hannibal for the four.

French Firm On NATO

PARIS (AP) — France said today that reform of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization is impossible and that President Charles de Gaulle's government is going ahead with plans to get out.

But the government expressed a willingness to talk over other mutual defense arrangements with the NATO allies.

A spokesman said after the weekly Cabinet meeting that France intends to take whatever measures she deems necessary concerning foreign military bases on French soil. He added that France is willing to discuss the consequences of such a move.

The statement outlining the French position was read to newsmen by Yvon Bourges, secretary of state for information.

It seemed almost certain that the statement had been dictated by De Gaulle himself.

The announcement seemed to represent a further stiffening of the French attitude. For several years, De Gaulle has been insisting that NATO must be revised.

The measures which France intends to take unilaterally, Bourges said, concern French troops in NATO commands, French officers in the headquarters, and the foreign bases on French soil.

A half mile from the blast, Mrs. Glenda McGuire awoke to the crash of the explosion and was cut on the feet by flying glass. Her injuries were termed not serious.

Fire companies and civil defense crews from within a 50-mile radius responded to the town of 2,565 to fight the fire.

Bill Burlison, Cape Girardeau county prosecuting attorney, said that he has sent warrants to Hannibal for the four.

Hart Check Suspects Held

Prosecuting attorney Fielding Potashnick said today that four men charged in Hannibal and Cape Girardeau on bogus check charges are suspected of writing worthless checks in Scott County during January which were forgeries of Hart's Bakery payroll checks.

The area around the fire was cleared, but no evacuation of Corning residents was made.

The state patrol at Poplar Bluff stated the explosion was felt as far as 25 miles north of Corning, with at least six large windows being broken.

George Kudlinski, a MOPAC telegrapher in St. Louis, said the train was made up in Dupo, Ill., across the Mississippi River from St. Louis. It was comprised of about 80 cars. He said the train was loaded with chemicals and explosives.

Four Elected to Chamber Board

Four men were elected yesterday to the Chamber of Commerce board of directors. Their three-year terms begin April 1.

They are Fielding Potashnick, Charles L. Blanton III, Jack Hogan, and Sam Harbin.

They will succeed Robert Matthews, Charles Simpson, Joal Montgomery and J. W. Hartzog, president of the Chamber of Commerce.

Directors will meet March 17 at a noon luncheon at the Mid-Towner Restaurant to elect a new president and other officers.

Others on the board are Sherman Grant, Phil Bartlett, Lynn Twitty, Wilson McMullin, Lorenne Limbaugh, Jolene Walker, Ray Clinton, Bill Huff, Frank Ferrell, Don Bohannon and Bruce Lewis.

Aging Program
Chief Chosen

JEFFERSON CITY (AP) — Gov. Warren E. Hearnes announced today Robert C. Linstrom of St. Louis has been appointed to head a statewide program on aging in the office of urban affairs.

Missouri's plan for the aging has received federal approval, making the state eligible for about $100,000 in federal funds for grants to local community programs.

Linstrom, formerly with the Health and Welfare Council of metropolitan St. Louis, will be aided by a 28-member advisory task force. It will be headed by Rep. F. E. (Buck) Robinson, D-Knox County.

Livestock Funds Are Diverted

JEFFERSON CITY (AP) — With the knowledge of Gov. Warren E. Hearnes and the chairman of the House and Senate Appropriations committees, Agriculture Commissioner Dexter D. Davis diverted $99,601 from the livestock disease program fund to the State Fair operations at Sedalia last year.

The money was used for such things as drapery, tents, food and electric power, it was reported today.

John C. Vaughn, state comptroller, said the law gives Davis power to transfer funds within the department for various purposes.

Both Sen. J. F. Patterson, D-Caruthersville, and Rep. Bernard (Doc) Simcoe, D-Callaway County, appropriations chairman, said they had agreed to the procedure.

Hearnes also conceded he had agreed to the diversion because "we had to pay the bills."

Patterson said it wouldn't be allowed to happen again. He said state agencies will have to follow legislative intent in spending the amounts allotted to the procedure.

He is charged with public intoxication, two counts of assault, resisting arrest and assault of a police officer.

Several Republican members of the appropriations committee said they had not been told of the transactions.

"It's a shame for the people to be hornswoggled," said Sen. Thomas G. Woolsey, R-Vermont. "The real question here is, have the people been deprived of legitimate services because this money was spent for something else?"

Rep. Ronald M. Belt, R-Macon, House minority leader, called it "a clear case of white wash."

Three Principals To Meeting

Harold Kiehne, director of secondary education in Sikeston schools, and two assistant principals, Troy Stephenson of the high school, and Harley Barnes of junior high will attend the annual winter meeting of the Missouri Association of Secondary Principals at the Lake of the Ozarks Sunday, Monday and Tuesday.

Kiehne is president of the association.

JEFFERSON CITY (AP) — Outstate redistricting problems occupied the House Reapportionment Commission today in its second day of public hearings.

The commission will settle down to the difficult task of drawing new district lines Monday.

Johnson Asks War On Crime

WHINSTON (AP) — President Johnson called today for a redoubled national effort against crime.

While proposing no major legislation, Johnson urged swift passage of a number of bills that have been before Congress for some time.

He urged appointment of a blue-ribbon commission to recommend drastic revision of all federal criminal laws by 1968.

And he called for more federal money to help state and local law enforcement agencies bring their methods up to date.

Johnson asked Congress to increase from $7.2 million to

Attack Isolated Outpost

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — At least two Communist companies assaulted an isolated camp of U.S. Special Forces men and mountain tribesmen early today near the Laotian border. The attack failed.

The 300 Montagnard troopers and their 12 "green beret" American advisers beat off the attackers in a day-long battle around the triangular mud and log fortress, radio reports from the camp said.

During the barrage the Communists shot down an armed U.S. Army C47 transport sent to help the besieged garrison in the Ashua Valley, 60 miles southwest of Da Nang. Four men were killed in the crash.

Rescue helicopters brought out three wounded crewmen of the C47.

But heavy Communist fire prevented the helicopters from bringing out the dead.

About 200 Communists launched the attack at 2 a.m.

At dawn, U.S. forces lost contact with the camp, raising fears it may have been overwhelmed as the Reds descended on it in the heavily wooded hills along the border.

Twitty said 60 million people are in school today in this country. The need for education has grown rapidly, he said.

To prepare people to live in the space age, Sikeston now has 30 vocational education courses to offer.

The cost is below the national average. The Sikeston cost, Twitty said, was $361.00 per child per year.

The school system has an annual payroll of $1,335,000 and $60,000 to $80,000 is spent in the trade area for materials and services.

Federal and state money makes up the difference between approximately $592,000 paid locally in school taxes and the total spent.

Two Vanduser Drivers Hurt

Two Vanduser drivers were injured last night in a head-on truck-car crash.

Two and one-half miles northwest of Vanduser, on a gravel road at 10:15 p.m., a 1959 Chevrolet, driven by Muri Evans, 51, Vanduser, and a 1962 Ford pickup, driven by Clara Mashburn, 31, Vanduser, collided.

Police officers believed that he must have been stooping at the time.

He was taken to the Pemiscot County Memorial hospital at Hayti where he died about 9 a.m. Sheriff Cowboy Hays was notified of the death.

Mrs. Reddick was arrested Sunday and held in the New Madrid jail pending charges.

The body of the victim was taken to the Osburn Funeral Home at Wardell and Monday was taken to Memphis where a post-mortem was performed. A .22 caliber bullet was found lodged near his heart. It struck a main artery in its path through his body.

Mrs. Reddick's bond has been set at $20,000, according to Sheriff Ramsey.

She is being held in the New Madrid County jail.

Deputy Sheriff Flip Dees said that she told him there had been a struggle over the gun but said she knew nothing of the shooting?

File Five Charges Against Man

Police lodged five charges against Robert Mathis, 105 Greer, yesterday.

He is charged with public intoxication, two counts of assault, resisting arrest and assault of a police officer.

Hearnes also conceded he had agreed to the diversion because "we had to pay the bills."

Patterson said it wouldn't be allowed to happen again. He said state agencies will have to follow legislative intent in spending the amounts allotted to the procedure.

He is being held until Friday night when he will appear in circuit court to face the charges.

He is accused of breaking a $20 pair of prescription sunglasses belonging to Patrolman Thurman Burns, who arrested him.

Deputy Sheriff Flip Dees said that she told him there had been a struggle over the gun but said she knew nothing of the shooting?

Blast Shakes 3 States

Superintendent Lynn Twitty told the board of education that if approved in an election the Sikeston public schools would gain 654 additional students from the Scott central district.

A two-district consolidation plan has been approved by the state board of education. The plan would divide the county into two large districts, R-1 and R-2. Sikeston and Scott central would make up the southern district.

Twitty said that if the plan is approved by voters, that it is possible that freshmen will occupy the Central school building. No date has been set for the election.

Twitty also reported that Hugh Denney, Columbia, of the Development Committee had said in a speech in Sikeston last week that a junior college is a most important step for a city to take in order to continue to grow.

Twitty said that the community should do everything possible to get plans underway to form a junior college district.

"A child is not finished when we get through with our teaching," he said. "We owe them something more."

Polling places for the April 5 school election were selected: Airport school; Lee Hunter school; Lincoln school; Matthews school; Junior high school; Southwest school and Miner city hall.

Election officials are to be appointed by the Parent-Teacher Associations.

Twitty reported that he expects possibly a less than normal turnover in faculty this year.

The Daily Sikeston Standard

C. L. ELANTON, Jr. Managing Editor, Entered at the Postoffice of Sikeston, Scott County, Missouri as Second Class Mail Matter according to Act of Congress March 3, 1879, Saturday, February 4th, 1960.

POOR CHARLIE SAYS!

Wednesday, March 9, 1799 - Meerce Toyneb stamps out voodoo in Haiti, gets athlete's foot.

When the Warren E. Hearnes administration program for the legislature is analyzed there is nothing controversial about it. The program should be enacted substantially without loss of time by the legislators.

It is true that two measures have drawn fire of legislators in the past.

They have been controversial but there is no need to continue bickering over them.

These are the highway beautification bill and the proposal to permit handicapped or educationally deprived students to get remedial instruction and treatment in public schools.

Failure to enact the billboard and junkyard restrictions will cost the state as much as $20 million in federal highway aid by 1968.

The legislature either must adopt legislation conforming to federal standards or forego the aid. Missourians will not view a failure to obtain these funds with favor. The state is hard pressed to obtain sufficient revenue to operate in the black. It should not pass up any opportunities for federal assistance.

The taxpayers also bear a heavy load. Coupled with talk of increased state revenue needs is discussion about a federal tax increase to finance the Viet Nam war effort and expanding Great Society domestic programs.

The proposal for public school assistance of handicapped and deprived youngsters is expected to revive the old fight about using public money to instruct parochial students.

Here again Governor Hearnes is seeking to permit Missouri to qualify for federal funds under a 1965 act of congress. This should be the ruling consideration.

Nothing in the Hearnes program will make an increase in state taxes necessary but higher levies are on the horizon.

The governor asks for a long range look at the state's need for capital improvements and the advisability of a big bond issue to finance them.

This matter should not be neglected either. Missouri must keep up with the march of progress.

It cannot afford to slip behind, which will be damaging both to its prestige and economic soundness.

THE "LOVE-IN" PROBLEM

The February 28 issue of U.S. News and World Report is quite concerned with the morals issue in the Welfare Program.

Los Angeles welfare supervisors are looking into a practice termed "love-ins" which raises the issue of aid to a family with dependent children although the man who lives in the house is neither married to the mother, nor is the father of the children.

The LA supers are quite provoked. "Taxpayers," they announce boldly "must not be forced to subsidize any welfare program that has the inherent danger of promoting illegitimacy, to say nothing about apparent outright immorality."

Tish, tish! Imagine such, and in California, too. The only thing new or different about this arrangement is the name.

In our area and elsewhere we have hit-and-run papas.

We have, under a variety of names and financial arrangements "contract" papas. In some instances lover boy agrees to take all or part of the first check after his offspring is securely on the welfare rolls. In other cases the arrangement calls for payment of a percentage of each ADC check for a number of years--sort of a conceive now, pay later plan.

In some instances ADC has become a way of life with grandma, mama and daughters all on the list. None has ever worked, in the usual sense of the word, and the brood of dependent youngsters continues to grow within the normal limits of biological metes and bounds, apparently without benefit of male sires. They just happen.

We are glad in a way to see that U.S. News and World is concerned over the problem of "love-ins" in California, but if that weekly rag is really interested in learning the facts of life, we invite their writers to Southeast Missouri.

We assume that USNWR would be permitted to pick up the story of the welfare worker who was interviewing an applicant for aid for herself and 13 children.

"But I don't understand," said the case worker. You say your husband deserted you 10 years ago, and yet eight of your children are under 10 years of age."

"Oh, I can explain that," said the applicant. "You see, he comes back now and then to apologize."

It is interesting to note, however, that in 1950 the Mississippi County Welfare Office listed 362 cases involving 936 children.

Nine years later there were 535 cases and 1,602 children (expenditure was $51,636 per month).

In October 1961 the case load had been upped to 556 involving 1,704 children (expenditure $55,545 that month).

In April 1962 the case load had reached 586 and involved 1,766 children ($57,770).

And in January 1966 there were 570 cases,

but 1,823 children. (The expenditure had climbed to $61,595).

The general population trend in Mississippi County has been downward since 1950, but the ADC caseload and the number of children involved has increased. So has the expenditure of public money.

A NATIONWIDE BIRTHDAY PARTY

In 1966, the American gas industry will celebrate its 150th anniversary. And that will be one nationwide birthday party deserving of wide participation and interest.

For many years after its commercial beginnings in 1816, gas meant but one thing: illumination. The Gaslight Era is a bright part of our history. Then came the electric light and some thought this doomed gas. But the gas industry began searching for, and finding, new uses for its product in such fields as heating, cooling and incinerating.

The big breakthrough came in the 1920's. Prior to that time, most markets used manufactured gas. There was plenty of natural gas, a superior fuel, but it was located far from the centers of population. The development of welded steel pipe paved the way for the long-distance pipelines that now bring natural gas to just about every nook and cranny of the country.

Since then, gas has chalked up record after new record. In 1965 alone, it added nearly 900,000 customers, bringing the total to an average of 37.4 million of whom 34.3 million are residential. Gas consumption touched new peaks. And the gas utility and pipeline companies spent the immense sum of $1.9 billion in 1965 for plant improvement and expansion of services.

Another fact deserves mention. There are numbers of municipal gas utilities in this nation, but they provide service for only about seven per cent of the gas customers. Putting it another way, since 1958 a total of 2,215 communities have been added to gas utility lines. Of these, 1,915 were introduced to service by investor-owned companies as against 300 by municipal systems. It's obvious that the majority of people prefer being served by publicly-regulated, heavily-taxed, investor-owned utilities, which provide the best in service--rather than by tax-free, publicly-owned plants which in many instances are politically managed or mismanaged.

By HAL COOPER
NEW YORK (AP) -- The New York City commuter is like the crab grass on his lawn, a hardy type.

Typically, he rises in the dark far out in the suburbs, spends up to two hours riding slow trains to the city--often standing up--and rarely sees his children from weekend to weekend.

The commuter thought he had it tough enough already, but a new trial threatens to be heaped on his suffering head.

If all goes according to plan, the commuter soon will be paying a city income tax for the privilege of working in New York. The tax will be on top of the federal income tax, the state income tax and the taxes he pays to support the community where his mortgaged castle is.

Some of the more rebellious commuters are threatening to move into the city, thus saving enough on commutation tickets and crab grass killers to break even.

John V. Lindsay is a kindly man and he hates making the commuters unhappy. However, he says the city is in "shocking financial condition" and must raise more money for its budget.

"New York," the mayor said recently, "owes a great debt to its 250,000 commuters. But the commuter in turn owes a debt to New York City. He rides on city-supported buses and subways. He is protected by city police. He depends on the city fire department."

If the legislature can be persuaded to pass the necessary enabling bill, New York City will start June 1 assessing incomes of both city dwellers and commuters on a scale of 1 to 5 per cent.

A commuter with a salary of $11,000 a year and two children would have to pay the city about $110 a year, deducted from his check on a pay-as-you-go basis.

The money he would pay to the city would be deductible from the income he pays federal tax on, so he would pay the internal revenue people $27 less a year.

Meanwhile, the New York Stock Exchange is threatening to move out to Long Island or New Jersey or somewhere because of a proposed increase in the city tax on the transfer of securities.

If they're serious it may be only a matter of time before the financial pages will be carrying the stock exchange closing prices out of Hackensack or Hicksville.

commerce committee, Magnuson reminded him that congress would be watching what voluntary controls the cigarette industry would place on advertising.

When Magnuson saw the Beatles appearing on the Sullivan show just before a commercial urging viewers to smoke Kent, he was appalled.

A phone call to Madison avenue and the Kent commercial was yanked.

AN OFF-THE-RECORD SECRET

An off-the-record semi-cabaret session regarding the rise in the cost of living and whether to impose wartime price controls was held in the White House last week.

The President was determined to continue with voluntary controls and seemed miffed with Secretary of Commerce John T. Connor in that he had not been able to get the business community to cooperate.

Connor came back with some implied criticism of the President's council of economic advisers, two of whom, Gardner Ackley and James Dusenberry, were sitting in the meeting.

The war continues, the United States will harden and prospects of a conciliatory attitude toward North Viet Nam will vanish.

Therefore, the time to sit down at the conference table warn the Russians, is right now.

U. S. intelligence also reports that there are some government leaders in Hanoi who agree with the Russians. The pro-Chinese faction, however, does not.

There is no indication as yet what the result of all this will be. However, observers agree that the Russian diagnosis is correct. Once the United States suffers heavy war casualties, public opinion will demand all-out surrender by North Viet Nam.

Note--The Russians have been trying for one year to persuade the North Vietnamese to talk peace. Premier Kossygin was in Hanoi on such a mission when the United States started bombing North Viet Nam Feb. 7, 1965, and the Chinese taunts at least, by that time.

Actually, he won only a conditional okay from the President, who has been in the middle of a backstage battle between his own economic advisers, two of whom, Gardner Ackley and James Dusenberry, were sitting in the meeting.

The secretary of commerce warned about letting price-wage guide lines be fixed by the theorists. He urged that business be consulted too.

This part of the White House conference substantiated reports that LBJ has not been happy with his new secretary of commerce, former head of the big drug firm, Merck and Company.

Both Connor and Secretary of State Willard Wirtz suggested that Congress be consulted and help to set both price and wage guidelines. Since congress is subject to pressure from both business, labor and the consumer, this would bring practical reaction from the country, it was argued. No decision was taken.

The meeting ended with agreement that strong political pressure should be exerted on any industry and any union that breaks the present wage-price ceiling. The President said he hopes to hold wages and prices down, without imposing mandatory wartime controls, but he asked those present to submit new plans for more effective controls.

He also indicated dissatisfaction with what had been accomplished, especially with his secretary of commerce.

Finally, he emphasized that he wanted to pay for the rising cost of the Viet Nam war without any major tax increase.

Note--Present at the meeting, in addition to Connor, Wirtz, Ackley and Dusenberry, were the following: Vice President Humphrey, Secretary of

When the Warren E. Hearnes administration program for the legislature is analyzed there is nothing controversial about it. The program should be enacted substantially without loss of time by the legislators.

It is true that two measures have drawn fire of legislators in the past.

They have been controversial but there is no need to continue bickering over them.

These are the highway beautification bill and the proposal to permit handicapped or educationally deprived students to get remedial instruction and treatment in public schools.

Failure to enact the billboard and junkyard restrictions will cost the state as much as $20 million in federal highway aid by 1968.

The legislature either must adopt legislation conforming to federal standards or forego the aid. Missourians will not view a failure to obtain these funds with favor. The state is hard pressed to obtain sufficient revenue to operate in the black. It should not pass up any opportunities for federal assistance.

The taxpayers also bear a heavy load. Coupled with talk of increased state revenue needs is discussion about a federal tax increase to finance the Viet Nam war effort and expanding Great Society domestic programs.

The proposal for public school assistance of handicapped and deprived youngsters is expected to revive the old fight about using public money to instruct parochial students.

Here again Governor Hearnes is seeking to permit Missouri to qualify for federal funds under a 1965 act of congress. This should be the ruling consideration.

Nothing in the Hearnes program will make an increase in state taxes necessary but higher levies are on the horizon.

The governor asks for a long range look at the state's need for capital improvements and the advisability of a big bond issue to finance them.

This matter should not be neglected either. Missouri must keep up with the march of progress.

It cannot afford to slip behind, which will be damaging both to its prestige and economic soundness.

THE "LOVE-IN" PROBLEM

The February 28 issue of U.S. News and World Report is quite concerned with the morals issue in the Welfare Program.

Los Angeles welfare supervisors are looking into a practice termed "love-ins" which raises the issue of aid to a family with dependent children although the man who lives in the house is neither married to the mother, nor is the father of the children.

The LA super is quite provoked. "Taxpayers," they announce boldly "must not be forced to subsidize any welfare program that has the inherent danger of promoting illegitimacy, to say nothing about apparent outright immorality."

Tish, tish! Imagine such, and in California, too. The only thing new or different about this arrangement is the name.

In our area and elsewhere we have hit-and-run papas.

We have, under a variety of names and financial arrangements "contract" papas. In some instances lover boy agrees to take all or part of the first check after his offspring is securely on the welfare rolls. In other cases the arrangement calls for payment of a percentage of each ADC check for a number of years--sort of a conceive now, pay later plan.

In some instances ADC has become a way of life with grandma, mama and daughters all on the list. None has ever worked, in the usual sense of the word, and the brood of dependent youngsters continues to grow within the normal limits of biological metes and bounds, apparently without benefit of male sires. They just happen.

We are glad in a way to see that U.S. News and World is concerned over the problem of "love-ins" in California, but if that weekly rag is really interested in learning the facts of life, we invite their writers to Southeast Missouri.

We assume that USNWR would be permitted to pick up the story of the welfare worker who was interviewing an applicant for aid for herself and 13 children.

"But I don't understand," said the case worker. You say your husband deserted you 10 years ago, and yet eight of your children are under 10 years of age."

"Oh, I can explain that," said the applicant. "You see, he comes back now and then to apologize."

It is interesting to note, however, that in 1950 the Mississippi County Welfare Office listed 362 cases involving 936 children.

Nine years later there were 535 cases and 1,602 children (expenditure was $51,636 per month).

In October 1961 the case load had been upped to 556 involving 1,704 children (expenditure $55,545 that month).

In April 1962 the case load had reached 586 and involved 1,766 children ($57,770).

And in January 1966 there were 570 cases,

but 1,823 children. (The expenditure had climbed to $61,595).

The general population trend in Mississippi County has been downward since 1950, but the ADC caseload and the number of children involved has increased. So has the expenditure of public money.

A NATIONWIDE BIRTHDAY PARTY

In 1966, the American gas industry will celebrate its 150th anniversary. And that will be one nationwide birthday party deserving of wide participation and interest.

For many years after its commercial beginnings in 1816, gas meant but one thing: illumination. The Gaslight Era is a bright part of our history. Then came the electric light and some thought this doomed gas. But the gas industry began searching for, and finding, new uses for its product in such fields as heating, cooling and incinerating.

The big breakthrough came in the 1920's. Prior to that time, most markets used manufactured gas. There was plenty of natural gas, a superior fuel, but it was located far from the centers of population. The development of welded steel pipe paved the way for the long-distance pipelines that now bring natural gas to just about every nook and cranny of the country.

Since then, gas has chalked up record after new record. In 1965 alone, it added nearly 900,000 customers, bringing the total to an average of 37.4 million of whom 34.3 million are residential. Gas consumption touched new peaks. And the gas utility and pipeline companies spent the immense sum of $1.9 billion in 1965 for plant improvement and expansion of services.

Another fact deserves mention. There are numbers of municipal gas utilities in this nation, but they provide service for only about seven per cent of the gas customers. Putting it another way, since 1958 a total of 2,215 communities have been added to gas utility lines. Of these, 1,915 were introduced to service by investor-owned companies as against 300 by municipal systems. It's obvious that the majority of people prefer being served by publicly-regulated, heavily-taxed, investor-owned utilities, which provide the best in service--rather than by tax-free, publicly-owned plants which in many instances are politically managed or mismanaged.

BREACHING THE APATHY

BARRIER
Those wishing to save freedom face three exceedingly difficult tasks; to find others who are genuinely interested in preserving their freedom, to convince them their freedom is actually in danger, and to penetrate public nonchalance.

A chorus of voices in the mass communications media, including some spokesmen for high governmental offices, unite in assuring us that all is well. They maintain we can have both guns and butter without raising taxes to pay for them, and that federal aid does not mean federal control. They contend we still have plenty of freedom, often suggest we name any freedom we have lost, reply with the argument that the kind we lost was something different called, disparagingly, "crugged individualism."

Advocates of liberty must find effective ways to breach the apathy barrier, to reach more of their fellow Americans with a message of truth and right, and of warning. This cannot be done merely by preaching to the winds, by "voices crying in the wilderness," or by caustic criticism. People must be approached individually with the message of freedom for the individual.

Every man has his own areas of special and deep concern, however these areas may differ from one person to the next. Each has personal freedoms and opportunities especially dear to his heart, and subjects on which he is well-informed. The effective advocate of freedom will follow up these particular avenues to show each person what he would lose if the U. S. became a totalitarian state. No man who earns his own living is apathetic about everything. Each one can be reached if we find the key. HLH

Washington Merry - Go - Round

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON -- Though Fulbright, Morse and the senate doves have been blasted for giving the world a picture of American division on Viet Nam, U. S. intelligence from Moscow indicates this has helped the cause of peace.

So when Magnuson saw the Beatles appearing on the Sullivan show just before a railroad crossing so far this year, Colonel E. L. (Mike) Hockaday, Superintendent of the State Highway Patrol, issued a plea to motorists to be more alert at such locations.

The Patrol Superintendent

pointed out that of the seven fatal accidents involving a motor vehicle with a train during the first seven weeks of this year, three of the mishaps killed more than one person. The ages of the eleven people killed in this type accident ranged from 13 to 57.

All but one of the fatal accidents occurred when a train hit a car.

"Motorists must accept their responsibility at railroad crossings," declared Colonel Hockaday. "They must realize that just because nothing has happened to them so far at such locations, there is always that first time."

The Colonel also pointed out that many motorists traveling interstate highways have become accustomed to ignoring the danger of trains because overpasses and underpasses the Treasury Henry Fowler, Secretary of Defense Robert McNamara, Under Secretary of Agriculture John A. Schnittke, and General Services Administration Lawson Knott. Knott is the man who started selling the governments huge stockpile of aluminum when the big aluminum companies jumped LBJ's price ceiling.

NEW MINIMUM WAGE SCALE

The compromise minimum wage bill of $1.25 to $1.40 in 1966, to $1.50 in 1967 and $1.60 in 1968 was hammered out after some intensive sessions between Rep. John Dent, D-Pa., labor leaders, and the White House.

As Chairman of the House Education and Labor sub-committee, Dent worked for almost three months, talking to scores of people, from his own colleagues to the White House last week.

The President was determined to continue with voluntary controls and seemed miffed with the White House's lack of progress.

The Russians have been diagnosing the senate debate and telling their friends in North Viet Nam that now is the time to sit down at the conference table.

So when Magnuson saw the Beatles appearing on the Sullivan show just before a railroad crossing so far this year, Colonel E. L. (Mike) Hockaday, Superintendent of the State Highway Patrol, issued a plea to motorists to be more alert at such locations.

The secretaries of commerce and labor, who favor a delay until the boost to $1.60 and AFL-CIO leaders, who want $1.75, at least, by that time.

During a half-hour conference at the White House, Dent declared, "Mr. President, I have a bill that everyone except the arch conservatives can support, though it won't satisfy everyone completely. That's too much to expect in a bitter battle like this. But all sides can get together on my compromise. I can tell you also that it adheres to your non-inflationary guidelines for wage increases."

"I am delighted to hear it, John, and I appreciate the work you have put into this," said Johnson. "However, I can't give you a yes or no answer as yet as to my own position on your compromise measure. That doesn't mean I am refusing to support it."

The meeting ended with agreement that strong political pressure should be exerted on any industry and any union that breaks the present wage-price ceiling. The President said he hopes to hold wages and prices down, without imposing mandatory wartime controls, but he asked those present to submit new plans for more effective controls.

He also indicated dissatisfaction with what had been accomplished, especially with his secretary of commerce.

Finally, he emphasized that he wanted to pay for the rising cost of the Viet Nam war without any major tax increase.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a dress of chrysanthemum taffeta and re-embroidered Chantilly type lace. The scalloped sabrina neckline dipped low in the back. The bodice was close fitted and featured long sleeves that came to only points over her hands. The full skirt was floor length and worn over a Southern belle hoop. The front of the skirt was lavishly trimmed with lace and a deep ruffle of lace enhanced the bottom of the skirt. Each carried a single long stem red rose.

Casey Stengel Voted to Hall

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer
ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP) — You could look it up. From now on it will be right there in the book, like Ned in the first reader. Ol' Case is in the Baseball Hall of Fame.

It really is tremendous.

They told Stengel he was going to give some kind of an award to George Weiss out at the ballpark Tuesday. He showed up a little before noon with his wife Edna and Harold Weissman, the press agent for the New York Mets.

Casey and Weiss had attended some civic breakfast for visiting baseball people and he was all dressed up for the occasion with a neat brown suit, white shirt, tan tie and a blue Mets cap. Edna looked as pretty as the day they were married and was the carrying some fresh red roses.

It was all hush-hush. Nobody was supposed to know but everybody, except Casey, did know. Ford Frick, the tella that used to be the commissioner before they put that general in there, sneaked down from the golf course to break the news.

The place was jumpin' with newspaper fellas. The Mets regulars, St. Pete writers, wire service men, radio and television guys with their cameras and tape recorders. And the news photographers too. It was just like it used to be before the World Series.

But Ol' Case is used to crowds. The writers eat up that mumbu-jumbo talk they call Stengel. This was a little more than usual but not too much to be suspicious. Weiss lined up beside Casey and Edna and Frick began his spiel:

"I want to announce that by unanimous vote of the Veterans Committee, Charles Dillon Stengel is now in the Hall of Fame," said Frick.

Charles Dillon swallowed once, grabbed his crooked black walking stick and started talking.

When you're 75 and you've been in baseball since 1910 and would be yet if you hadn't broke your hip and had to retire last August, you really aren't surprised at anything.

For years Casey has been saying, "You gotta remember that a lot of people my age are dead." That includes a lot of people who might have been in the Hall of Fame but never made it.

"When you're alive at the present time," Stengel said, "it's a nice thing to know that you done something in your life that people thought was worth while."

"So many men have done amazing things it makes you feel regrets that four or five others are not in it. I feel sorry for the others that didn't get in."

Now, wasn't that just like Stengel. He'll be worrying about the others on one of the big days of his life.

Edna was beaming. "This is greater than winning the World Series in 1949," she said. "It couldn't be greater than this at Cooperstown."

Edna remembered all about the 1949 World Series because that was Casey's first with the New York Yankees. They said they brought him in for laughs while they rebuilt the ball club but he won the pennant in 1949 and every year for the next five and took the World Series each time, too.

His record of 10 pennants in 12 years with the Yanks until they fired him because he was "too old" in 1960 was one of the big things in getting him elected.

But you can't overlook the fact the Mets played in this. He didn't win with the Mets. In fact, he couldn't get them out of last place in his four years as manager. But they became the Amazin' Mets and people broke down the door to pay to see them in Shea Stadium.

"I am positive the club is on its way to getting out of last place and we'll go very far upward," Stengel told the nice old ladies and gentlemen from Iowa and Michigan and Massachusetts who cheered the announcement of his election.

It was quite a day in St. Petersburg and it will be quite a day up at Cooperstown, N.Y., July 25 when Casey and Ted Williams will be inducted formally.

China
Invents
New Game

TOKYO, AP -- Communist China said today it has invented a new game -- basketball on ice.

The official New China News Agency, monitored here, said the game "combines the skater's speed with the accuracy and the complex maneuvers of basketball."

"The fact that all shooting, passing and dribbling are executed on the move adds much to the gracefulness of the game," the agency said.

Spring Training Information

By JACK HAND

Associated Press Writer
ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP)

— The winds of change are whistling through the palm trees at the St. Louis Cardinals' spring training base. Bill White, Kenny Boyer and Dick Groat are gone. George Kerner, Charley Smith and Jerry Buchek are to take their places.

Vice president Stan Musial still takes batting practice and slashes the ball fiercely to all fields. Red Schoendienst still bosses the dugout and the clubhouse. But there is a new spirit in the air.

Kerner, a lanky 6-foot-3, 180-pound rookie from the Jacksonville farm club, typifies the new mood. Until last season, Kerner was just another name in the minor league organization. Now he is the man who must fill the big shoes left by Bill White, traded to the Phillies.

Although Kerner is a first baseman by trade, he played the outfield for Jacksonville last season. With White on the scene, the future looked bleak for rookie first basemen.

"We had four other first basemen," said Kerner. "Tolman, Geoff Long, Bud Zeller and Larry Stubble were all there. I could run a little faster so they put me in the outfield. We had a strange club.

About half the fellows were playing out of position. As an outfielder, I wasn't too good and not too bad."

"This is my first Cardinal cap. Last year I was up the road at 62nd Avenue North (St.

Petersburg) with the other farm club players. It's a pretty good club from $4 a day meal money to $81 a week."

"Until last year I guess I never had done well enough to get a chance up here. But my bat started to fly a little last season. I hit 19 home runs and wound up at .295.

"That door doesn't open too many times. You have to be ready when it does. The pressure of following Bill doesn't bother me. I can either do the job or I can't. You never know until you try. We'll just wait and see."

Schoendienst has installed Kerner at first base in a tentative infield that will have Julian Javier, the only holdover, at second base, Buchek at short and Smith, a former Met, at third.

In addition to the 26-year-old Kerner, the Cards have Tolman and Tito Francon, a handyman outfielder -- first baseman, to handle the job. The position belongs to Kerner if he can hold it through the exhibition games that start this weekend.

The Cards brought Kerner to the big club last September after the big Jacksonville season ended.

In 1961, he came to bat 31 times and collected nine hits for a .290 batting average. He credits his switch to a lighter bat with his increased power production last season.

"Not bad," said Kerner. "A .290 lifetime average in the big leagues. Now all I have to do is hold it."

NEW YORK (NEA)

When Frank Gifford, John Unitas, Willie Davis and Sam Huff walked into Mac B headquarters in Saigon, the sergeant handed each of them two identification cards. On the cards was written simply, "Non-Combatant."

"That's in case," cautioned the NCO, "you get caught by the Viet Cong. Give them one, keep one."

"But man," said Willie, "those VCs can't read."

The four pro football emissaries to the war in Viet Nam arrived right in the middle of Chinese New Year.

"We were a little nervous anyhow," recalled Gifford, "not knowing what to expect, and they were blowing up these firecrackers all over the place. Made us jumpy."

A couple of days later, they were up in Da Nang for the night, sleeping at an Air Force base. The firecrackers were still popping, and Sam Huff slept like a kitten, used to the harmless pops. Or so he thought. Next morning at breakfast, he found out the VC had mortared the base and killed a couple of guys.

For the 12 days he was in Viet Nam, acting as emcee of the football show the boys put on.

At Ban Me Thuot, the gang stayed at Madame Nhu's old hunting lodge. It came up raining monsoons when they were supposed to cower to a frontier outpost. The guys resumed kidding Gifford about "Darby's Rangers," a Hollywood epic he once made.

"Right now," shrugged Gifford, "we could use that Marine who trained us for the movie."

Capt. Tom Crowder, who once played football against Johnny Unitas at Louisville, was loose. He suggested they fly through the sheets of rain anyhow, at treetop level. When they landed at the jungle camp 35 minutes away, a muddied Marine captain walked up to Gifford.

"Guess you don't remember me?" he said.

"I sure do," Frank answered. It was Ola Mize, a Medal of Honor winner in the Korean war, his instructor for "Darby's Rangers."

The footballers, going from 6 a.m. to midnight, chewing malaria pills, dropped in on such places as Kuang Nai, where there are only 150 Americans. And then because the soldiers asked for them, Gifford and Unitas went forward to a couple of outposts, where there might be three or four or five Americans.

"It was like 'All Quiet on the Western Front,'" said Frank. "Except they sat surrounded by a big moat, fortified with sharpened bamboo sticks."

The main worry of Gifford and the other players was how they would be received, what they could contribute. And did they contribute?

"I know we did," said Gifford. "We all agreed on one thing. The guys themselves were unbelievable in their attitude.

Kentucky No. 1

In Final AP Poll

Kentucky's Wildcats, who narrowly missed a perfect regular season, scored in a runaway in the final Associated Press major-college basketball poll for 1965-66.

The Wildcats were voted No. 1 by 39 of the 48 sports writers and broadcasters on AP's nationwide panel. Duke climbed back into the second spot ahead of Texas Western, which, like Kentucky, suffered its only loss of the season last Saturday night.

Kansas's Big Eight champions jumped from sixth to fourth, St. Joseph's of Pennsylvania also advanced two places to fifth, and Cincinnati climbed from 10th to seventh.

The final Top Ten, with records through Monday and points on a 10-9-8 etc. basis:

Casey Stengel Voted to Hall

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer
ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP) — You could look it up. From now on it will be right there in the book, like Ned in the first reader. Ol' Case is in the Baseball Hall of Fame.

It really is tremendous.

They told Stengel he was gonna give some kind of an award to George Weiss all at the ballpark Tuesday. He showed up a little before noon with his wife Edna and Harold Weissman, the press agent for the New York Mets.

Casey and Weiss had attended some civic breakfast for visiting baseball people and he was all dressed up for the occasion with a neat brown suit, white shirt, tan tie and a blue Mets cap. Edna looked as pretty as the day they were married and was carrying some fresh red roses.

It was all hush-hush. Nobody was supposed to know but everybody, except Casey, did know. Ford Frick, the fellas that used to be the commissioner "before they put that general in there, sneaked down from the golf course to break the news.

The place was jumpin' with newspaper fellas. The Mets regulars, St. Pete writers, wire-service men, radio and television guys with their cameras and tape recorders. And the news photographers too. It was just like it used to be before the World Series.

But Ol' Case is used to crowds. The writers eat up that mumbu-jumbo talk they call Stengelese. This was a little more than usual but not too much to be suspicious. Weiss lined up beside Casey and Edna and Frick began his spiel:

"I want to announce that by unanimous vote of the Veterans Committee, Charles Dillon Stengel is now in the Hall of Fame," said Frick.

Charles Dillon swallowed once, grabbed his crooked black walking stick and started talking.

When you're 75 and you've been in baseball since 1910 and would be yet if you hadn't broke your hip and had to retire last August, you really aren't surprised at anything.

For years Casey has been saying, "You gotta remember that a lot of people my age are dead." That includes a lotta people who might have been in the Hall of Fame but never made it.

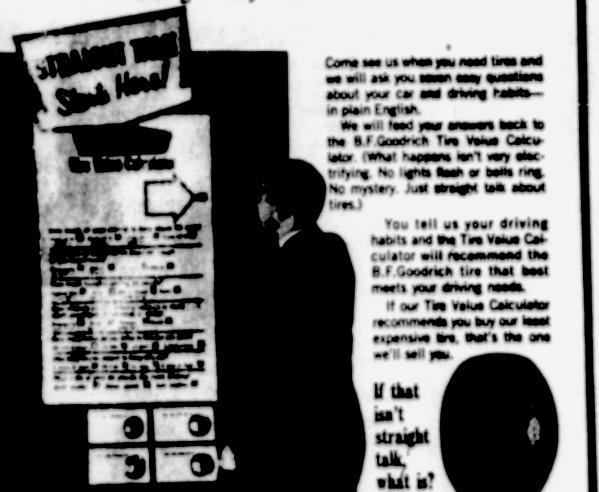

"When you're alive at the present time," Stengel said, "it's a nice thing to know that you done something in your life that people thought was worth while."

"So many men have done amazing things it makes you feel

KANSAS CITY AP -- Seeded

teams had a rough day, but most of them made it into today's second round of the NAIA Basketball Tournament.

Carson-Newman of Tennessee, the tourney's second-seeded club barely escaped an upset but beat Indiana Central 68-67.

Third-seeded Grambling of Louisiana had to come from behind to beat Central Washington State 70-64.

Fifth-seeded Midwestern of Texas downed Monmouth of New Jersey 94-92 on last second shot.

Albuquerque of New Mexico beat New Haven of Connecticut 81-74; and Illinois Wesleyan, No. 12 seed, downed Dickson State of North Dakota 86-76.

Two rated clubs -- eighth-seeded Pittsburgh State and 16th-seeded Linfield of Oregon -- were upset.

Although Kernes is a first baseman by trade, he played the outfield for Jacksonville last season. With White on the scene, the future looked bleak for rookie first basemen.

"We had four other first basemen," said Kernes. "But Tolan, Geoff Long, Bud Zippel and Larry Stubing were all there. I could run a little faster so they put me in the outfield. We had a strange club. About half the fellows were playing out of position. As an outfielder, I wasn't too good and not too bad."

"Not bad," said Kernes. "A 290 lifetime average in the big leagues. Now all I have to do is hold it."

In addition to the 26-year-old

Kernes, the Cards have Tolan and Tito Francona, a handymen outfielder -- first baseman, to handle the job. The position belongs to Kernes if he can hold it through the exhibition games that start this weekend.

The Cards brought Kernes to the big club last September after the Jacksonville season ended. In 11 games, he came to bat 31 times and collected nine hits for a .290 batting average. He credits a switch to a lighter bat with his increased power production last season.

"Not bad," said Kernes. "A

Black Won't Budge From His Beliefs

WASHINGTON AP -- The complexity of Hugo L. Black, a fiery belief that the Constitution means exactly what it says shines through the Supreme Court's affirmation of the 1965 Voting Rights Act. Black, 80, nine days ago, and an associate justice since 1937, won't sit still for any label, be it "liberal," "conservative" or "activist." And he won't sit still when he feels his fellow judges have marched off in the wrong direction, no matter how worthy the goal.

Black demonstrated this again Monday. Chief Justice Earl Warren got the unanimity he wanted for upholding two key sections of the voting law -- the suspension of literacy tests where used to keep Negroes from the polls and the dispatch of federal examiners to those areas to register qualified Negroes.

But Black wouldn't go along with his eight colleagues in upholding a third key section of the law that would require new state voting laws to pass federal muster.

From his seat to Warren's right, the position traditionally reserved for the senior justice, Black lashed this ruling because it would treat states "like separate corporate units with no power of their own."

Scanning the less than half-filled chamber, Black said, "I would have yielded a lot not to have had to file a written dissent in this case -- but I felt compelled to do so."

As he has so many times in the past 28 years, often standing alone, Black made his case by looking smack at the Constitution. There he found nothing to support what Congress had done and the court approved.

"Nothing like that was ever contemplated when the Constitution or the 15th Amendment was adopted," he said.

In his written opinion, Black added: "I see no reason to read into the Constitution mean-

3 Arrests After House Robbery

KENNETT -- Three Cardwell men were arrested Sunday and are being held in the Dunklin County jail pending charges of stealing property valued at more than $50.

The three, Stanley Harrison McDole, 26, Lawrence Maples, 21, and Curtis McClish, 23, are accused of going to the home of Mrs. Cordelia Rose near Bucoda at 10 p.m. Saturday where McDole asked for admittance to get a drink of water. While there, according to Sheriff Raymond Scott, he also went to the bathroom through a bedroom and after he left Mrs. Rose discovered that $63 was missing from her purse which was in the bedroom.

Deputy Sheriff Juston Hugens and Trooper Joe Matthews picked up the trio in Cardwell. Sheriff Scott said felony charges would probably be filed against them.

Deputy Radford Raines was called at 8 a.m. to investigate a burglary at the Jerry Murdock Grocery at Pine City, located on Highway 25 near Holcomb. When Murdock opened his store for business he discovered that $23 in change was missing along with a box of shotgun shells, three cartons of .22 shells, 35 cartons of assorted cigarettes and an undetermined amount of canned goods and meat.

Deputy Raines said the thieves had entered the grocery store by prying open the back door.

The 17th amendment to the U.S. Constitution provided that senators be elected directly by the people.

Report

Sen. Stuart Symington

In recent weeks there has been almost continuous debate in the Congress, on television and in the press, about our policies in Vietnam. One of the persistent themes of those who question our policy is that it is confused and unclear.

In a talk in the Senate recently, I stated that I find it hard to conceive a more clearly enunciated policy. Some of the thoughts presented were these:

"For seventy years--starting with Lenin -- the Communists have made a science of the study of seizing power. We are dealing in Vietnam with the latest and most insidious technique which these studies have produced.

"The new strategy is directed at destroying the whole fabric of society in developing countries, starting in the rural and remote areas, and gradually moving toward the cities.

"The tactics call for the training of dedicated subversives in foreign countries who are then infiltrated with arms and munitions to destroy the structure of government by assassinating its local officials, mayors, village elders, teachers, police, doctors, anti-malaria workers, and anyone who is trying to maintain the fabric of society. The aim is to break down law and order, terrorize the people into submission and cooperation, and produce chaos.

"The Chinese and North Vietnamese Communists have bluntly declared that Vietnam is the test case for their new strategy; and as a result, over 60,000 men have been infiltrated into South Vietnam from the North.

"That strategy must be defeated in South Vietnam. What could be more clear?

"The Communists have taken the position that the future of Vietnam will be settled by force. We prefer negotiation. What is unclear about that?

"We seek the end of aggression from the North. Our war aims are limited and do not extend to the destruction of North Vietnam. Nor do we threaten Communist China. What is unclear about that?

Hanoi says that the Viet Cong must be recognized as the sole representative of the South Vietnamese people before any conference can be held. The South Vietnamese and we reject that contention. There are 250,000 or so Viet Cong. But there are 900,000 refugees who came south in 1954, over 700,000 who have fled from Viet Cong areas in 1965, 700,000 in the Army of South Vietnam, a million and one-half Catholics, and millions of Buddhists and various other groupings in South Vietnam. They do not want Communism, and they have fought it for a dozen years.

"What could be clearer than that?

"We are committed to the holding of free elections in South Vietnam. What is unclear about that?

"Questions have been raised about the details of our negotiations. I do not believe a public detailed discussion of negotiating positions is in our national interest. When negotiations start they will be difficult and complicated.

"The place to solve problems is at the negotiating table. Any one with any negotiation experience knows that to be a fact. Unless one is deliberately planning to lose, it is the height of folly to make concessions prior to the start of negotiations, or make concessions at all except as they would, in this case, promote the larger aim of assuring the freedom of South Viet Nam.

"What is unclear about such a policy?

"What indeed is unclear about any part of our policy in Vietnam?"

I will be glad to send a complete copy of this talk to interested persons upon request to my office.

WHISPER WEIGHT PLAIDS SET THE FASHION PACE FOR SPRING

Two bills of great importance to rural Missouri have just been introduced in the Senate. Am a co-sponsor of both bills.

"A bill to launch a program of development districts. These districts would continue the milk program which last year supplied 61.7 million one-half pints of milk to Missouri youngsters in 2,984 schools. The school milk program is important to our Missouri dairy farmers who supply milk under the program.

My Senate Subcommittee on Administration Practice held hearings recently on the cost of legal representation before Federal agencies. Complaints from all across the country show that Federal agencies have so limited attorney fees that in many cases citizens are not getting adequate representation. Witnesses testified that in cases dealing with veterans and social security matters, some agencies limit attorney fees to $2 and in other instances $5 or $10.

"A bill to provide for the payment of attorney fees for these out-dated attorney fees.

As Chairman of the Subcommittee, am searching for a way in which the citizen's right to proper representation can be insured by removing unrealistic limitations on attorney fees.

Citizens with complex cases taking many days to solve are finding it hard to obtain competent lawyers for these out-dated attorney fees.

The President's Health and Education message has just reached Congress. It calls for a $1,000,000,000 increase in health funds including an increase of $78,000,000 for health research.

Was alarmed to see that the message calls for a reduction in the present highly successful school lunch program. Last year, 464,478 Missouri youngsters received 77,900,000 lunches under this program. Around 24,000,000 pounds of food were used to supply these lunches. While some improvements can be made in the school lunch program, do not believe it should be cut back.

Will work for legislation to continue this vital program.

In education, the President recommends that Congress

consider doubling the number of children in the Head Start program. The message also calls for a three year continuation of the Higher Education Facilities Act to help meet continued increases in college enrollments.

Have been appointed to represent the United States Senate at the Interparliamentary Union to be held at Canberra, Australia, April 11-16. The meeting will be attended by legislators from all over the world.

"The Chinese and North Vietnamese Communists have bluntly declared that Vietnam is the test case for their new strategy; and as a result, over 60,000 men have been infiltrated into South Vietnam from the North.

"That strategy must be defeated in South Vietnam. What could be more clear?

"The Communists have taken the position that the future of Vietnam will be settled by force. We prefer negotiation. What is unclear about that?

"We seek the end of aggression from the North. Our war aims are limited and do not extend to the destruction of North Vietnam. Nor do we threaten Communist China. What is unclear about that?

Hanoi says that the Viet Cong must be recognized as the sole representative of the South Vietnamese people before any conference can be held. The South Vietnamese and we reject that contention. There are 250,000 of us Viet Cong. But there are 900,000 refugees who came south in 1954, over 700,000 who have fled from Viet Cong areas in 1965, 700,000 in the Army of South Vietnam, a million and one-half Catholics, and millions of Buddhists and various other groupings in South Vietnam. They do not want Communism, and they have fought it for a dozen years.

"What could be clearer than that?

"We are committed to the holding of free elections in South Vietnam. What is unclear about that?

"Questions have been raised about the details of our negotiations. I do not believe a public detailed discussion of negotiating positions is in our national interest. When negotiations start they will be difficult and complicated.

"The place to solve problems is at the negotiating table. Any one with any negotiation experience knows that to be a fact. Unless one is deliberately planning to lose, it is the height of folly to make concessions prior to the start of negotiations, or make concessions at all except as they would, in this case, promote the larger aim of assuring the freedom of South Vietnam.

"What is unclear about such a policy?

"What indeed is unclear about any part of our policy in Vietnam?"

I will be glad to send a complete copy of this talk to interested persons upon request to my office.

Citizens with complex cases taking many days to solve are finding it hard to obtain competent lawyers for these out-dated attorney fees.

As Chairman of the Subcommittee, am searching for a way in which the citizen's right to proper representation can be insured by removing unrealistic limitations on attorneys fees.

The President's Health and Education message has just reached Congress. It calls for a $1,000,000,000 increase in health funds including an increase of $78,000,000 for health research.

Was alarmed to see that the message calls for a reduction in the present highly successful school lunch program. Last year, 464,478 Missouri youngsters received 77,900,000 lunches under this program. Around 24,000,000 pounds of food were used to supply these lunches. While some improvements can be made in the school lunch program, do not believe it should be cut back. Will work for legislation to continue this vital program.

In education, the President recommends that Congress

consider doubling the number of children in the Head Start program. The message also calls for a three year continuation of the Higher Education Facilities Act to help meet continued increases in college enrollments.

Have been appointed to represent the United States Senate at the Interparliamentary Union to be held at Canberra, Australia, April 11-16. The meeting will be attended by legislators from all over the world.

Farmers Night

MALDEN -- The 13th annual farmers night banquet was held Friday night at the high school, with an estimated 375 farmers attending.

Farmers from 13 communities attended. In addition, 125 area businessmen were present.

Speakers included B. W. Harrison, district director of the University of Missouri Extension Service, and K. S. Das and Kilarai Narashimhalu of India. Mr. Das and Mr. Narashimhalu are two of 12 men who are in the U. S. to study the American culture and agriculture.

The program concluded with a 15 minute question-and-answer period. The dinner was sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce, in conjunction with other Malden civic organizations.

Vance Engram of Sikeston is today announcing his candidacy for the office of city collector for Sikeston.

Oran -- Frank L. Miller, our ex-postmaster, has rented the room recently occupied by J.S. Brady and is fitting it up for a meat market.

Sikeston defeated the strong Malden team Friday night to the tune of 42 to 34. Mr. Kirk refereed the game and Mr. Smith umpired.

ANN LANDERS
Answers
Your Problems

Dear Ann Landers: I am married to a man who is a good husband and father. He is an excellent provider and I do not recall the last time he missed a day of work.

The problem is that every Saturday night he goes out and gets dead drunk. He says if I was a good wife I would go with him to see that he doesn't get into an accident. He drives his own car and keeps telling me that one of these Saturdays he will run over someone, or into something, and it will be my fault.

I do not drink and I abhor taverns and the types who hang around such places. I honestly don't know what is the right thing to do. Please tell me. -- TORN IN TWO

Dear Torn: Your husband is trying to maneuver you into condemning his Saturday night benders. Moreover he'd like to shift the guilt to you if something unfortunate does happen to him while he's out tootin' around. Don't fall for it.

If he insists on getting smashed once a week you can't

If he insists on getting smashed once a week you can't stop him, but you don't have to lead him from one saloon to another. Tell him to take taxis or walk.

Dear Ann Landers: The letter from the hat check girl got me mad. And I'm mad at you, too, for publishing her stupid letter.

Aren't there enough gutless wonders who allow themselves to be shamed into tipping without YOU helping the cause?

I'm an ad space salesman and I work mighty hard. Mobody tips ME for doing a good job. And why should they?

I eat out almost every night. When I take my girl out I have to leave big tips all around or she gives me dirty looks. I have to tip the guy who parks my car, the cutie who checks my hat, the waiter in the restaurant and the creep who reads the newspapers in the men's room. Everybody and his hand out, and you'd better come through or you're a cheap jerk.

Is this fair? I would like to see this letter in print, along with an answer from you. If you can think of one. -- PERMANENT RESIDENT OF SHNOOKSVILLE

Dear Shnook: I've said it before, and obviously you missed it so here it is again:

The European system of tipping, before the Americans got there and spoiled things was far better than ours. Fifteen percent was added to the bill and tipping was discouraged.

In our country tipping is considered part of the cost of going out. Since you resent the system I suggest that you park your car on the street (if you can find a parking place), eat at home, and keep your coat and hat with you.

Dear Ann Landers: I want to play a bit rough. (My daughter's father-in-law makes his home with them and he cannot stand noise.) What do you suggest?

STUMPED GRANDMA

Dear Stumped: Easy. A goldfish.

Additions To Hayti Proposed

HAYTI -- Two sections of land adjoining the city limits will be taken into this municipality if present plans of the Hayti Board of Aldermen are carried out and meet with the approval of the courts and city residents.

The two areas, totaling about 200 acres, are located to the northwest and southwest extremes of the present boundaries.

The south section, which includes 15 homes, takes in the city's industrial site. This plot of 132 acres, is available for the purpose of industrial development. The northern area under consideration includes 75 homes and covers about 60 acres.

Mayor Lee Roy Bain offered the proposal to the aldermen last week and it was given unanimous endorsement. The mayor has reported that as soon as all of the necessary legal papers are ready, the proposal will be presented to Circuit Court. If there is no opposition, the issue might be ready for the voters at the city's regular April election. This would eliminate the cost of a special election on the measure.

Plans to Stay in Black

DEXTER -- Stoddard County is now operating "in the black" and according to its proposed budget for 1966, plans to stay there.

A budget of $27,103.26 was approved by the Stoddard county court for the 1966 fiscal year. Estimated revenue for the year totals $27,238.20.

Estimated income includes $184,068 from current taxation; $64,530 from license, fees, service and sales and $53,500 from county aid road trust fund by state. Ten percent from this total was deducted for delinquent taxes leaving the $27,238.20 total.

Evaluation of property for 1965 including real estate, personal, railroad and utility, merchants and manufacturers total $45,834,517, and for 1965 total $45,442,000.

The county revenue rate on the $100 assessed valuation is 40 cents.

Adult Course Begins Tonight

BELL CITY -- Bell City schools began a program of adult basic education Tuesday at 6 p.m. in the high school study hall.

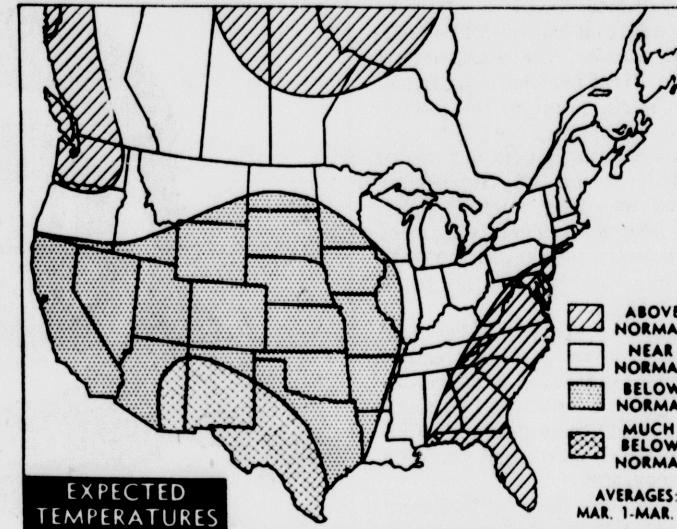

The program consists of elementary level education for adults in reading, writing, speaking, listening, arithmetic, citizenship, health practices, consumer knowledge, human relations, home and family living.

"Morality's other name is Freedom of Choice. It consists of knowing the difference between right and wrong, and which to choose, and when and why."

Mixed March

Maps show Weather Bureau's estimated forecast of average temperature, precipitation through March 31.

The Mississippi Valley is the dividing line for March temperatures, with normal to above marks prevailing to the east while most of the nation to the west is in for colder than usual weather.

Heavy precipitation is the outlook from central Texas to the Great Lakes and east while the spotty picture for the rest of the country ranges from below to above normal.

What the Communists Are Saying About You

by Karl Baarslag

Later issues of Peking Review reiterated the same Communist theme: deathless and invincible support for the Vietnamese Communists, the fraudulent nature of Pres. Johnson's "Hypocritical peace gestures," and the only way out for Uncle Sam -- "Get Out of Vietnam!"

The August 13, 1965 issue warned once more "We Chinese people mean what we say!"

The Vietnamese people are continuing to win brilliant victories in their struggle against U.S. aggression and for national salvation. U.S. imperialism's attempt to save itself from defeat by expanding the war will never succeed. The crimes of aggression committed by the United States will only arouse the Vietnamese people to still more determined resistance and to still more militant unity in their life-and-death struggle against the U.S. aggressors...

The "special war" waged by the United States for four years and more in South Vietnam has failed completely, and the myth of U.S. air and naval superiority has been exploded.

THE SOVIET LINE

New Times is published weekly in Moscow in English and six other languages. While primarily addressed to lower echelon Communists it also carries popular articles for fellow-travellers and sympathizers. It does not carry "heavy think" pieces or fine spun dialectical treatises as do International Affairs and Marxist World Review. The last ten issues of New Times have carried a variety of articles attacking the United States the chief villain in the dastardly but futile plot to destroy world peace in order to convert human blood into gold for Wall Street. Issue No. 28 carried an article charging that the war in Vietnam was nothing more than a testing ground for new U.S.

diabolic weapons. English newspapers are quoted as authority for the claim that the U.S. has tested Armalite, Vulcan, the Lazy Dog, Snake Eye, as well as deadly chemicals and polos gas. "American military circles have latterly been mooting the possibility of testing tactical nuclear bombs and warheads in Vietnam," New Times charges.

Another issue carried a long article, due line New York, expanding on the growing peace movement in the United States and rising American "fears and doubts" about winning in Vietnam. The reporter, Kondrashov, happily reports that "campus ferment has been a weighty factor in American political life." He adds that, "The tempestuous Negro revolution has engendered a critical attitude to other aspects to Washington policy."

Kondrashov makes the bare-faced claim that "no less than 23,000 picked the White House on April 13 in protest against the war in Vietnam." Teach-ins and mass demonstrations are also enthusiastically reported by the Soviet propagandist as indicating wide-spread and growing U.S. disillusionment with the war in Vietnam.

More interestingly, however,

Kondrashov admits:

The atmosphere of anti-Communism, which has been assiduously built up over the past years, is having its effect. Many Americans see nothing outrageous, or strange even, in repeated appeals to use force thousands of miles away from the United States, wherever U.S. Intelligence discovers 'Reds.'

Kondrashov admits "Vietnam and Dominica have not yet stirred the mass of the population to action" and quotes a Gallup poll that 41% of the Americans have no definite views one way or another on their government's policy in Vietnam.

Mixed March

Maps show Weather Bureau's estimated forecast of average temperature, precipitation through March 31.

The Mississippi Valley is the dividing line for March temperatures, with normal to above marks prevailing to the east while most of the nation to the west is in for colder than usual weather.

Heavy precipitation is the outlook from central Texas to the Great Lakes and east while the spotty picture for the rest of the country ranges from below to above normal.

What the Communists Are Saying About You

by Karl Baarslag

Later issues of Peking Review reiterated the same Communist theme: deathless and invincible support for the Vietnamese Communists, the fraudulent nature of Pres. Johnson's "Hypocritical peace gestures," and the only way out for Uncle Sam -- "Get Out of Vietnam!"

The August 13, 1965 issue warned once more "We Chinese people mean what we say!"

The Vietnamese people are continuing to win brilliant victories in their struggle against U.S. aggression and for national salvation. U.S. imperialism's attempt to save itself from defeat by expanding the war will never succeed. The crimes of aggression committed by the United States will only arouse the Vietnamese people to still more determined resistance and to still more militant unity in their life-and-death struggle against the U.S. aggressors...

The "special war" waged by the United States for four years and more in South Vietnam has failed completely, and the myth of U.S. "air and naval superiority" has been exploded.

THE SOVIET LINE

New Times is published weekly in Moscow in English and six other languages. While primarily addressed to lower echelon Communists it also carries popular articles for fellow-travellers and sympathizers. It does not carry "heavy think" pieces or fine spun dialectical treatises as do International Affairs and Marxist World Review. The last ten issues of New Times have carried a variety of articles attacking the United States as the chief villain in the dastardly but futile plot to destroy world peace in order to convert human blood into gold for Wall Street. Issue No. 28 carried an article charging that the war in Vietnam was nothing more than a testing ground for new U.S.

diabolic weapons.

English newspapers are quoted as authority for the claim that the U.S. has tested Armalite, Vulcan, the Lazy Dog, Snake Eye, as well as deadly chemicals and poison gas.

America's military circles have lately been mooting the possibility of testing tactical nuclear bombs and warheads in Vietnam.

The names of all the parties to said suit are stated above in the caption hereof and the names and address of the attorneys for plaintiff are Dempster, Edwards & Robison, 215 N. Standard Street, Sikeston, Missouri.

You are further notified that, unless you file an answer or other pleading or shall otherwise appear and defend against the aforesaid petition within 45 days after the 10th day of March 1966, judgment by default will be rendered against you.

It is ordered that a copy hereof be published according to law in the Daily Sikeston Standard a newspaper of general circulation published in the County of Scott, State of Missouri.

A true copy from the record.

Witness my hand and the seal of the circuit court this 7th day of March, 1966.

Stocks
Heed
Gloom

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP) -- Profits were never higher but the stock market is eyeing gloomy predictions that the earnings climb is tiring. Some even fear the trend may be reversed. The figures themselves, however, scarcely bear this out. They get bigger all the time.

The market shrugs these off as past history and tries to guess the future. What is feared is that profits will be crimped by several developments.

These include rising production costs as wage scales mount and payroll outlays are hiked by higher Social Security taxes; tight money proving both expensive and restrictive for business expansion plans and current activities; high break-in costs for new plants coming into operation or, on the other hand, unprofitable operation of aging plants as stepped-up production schedules push against the limits of capacity; and labor shortages that spell more overtime, less production, or the hiring of less efficient help.

All seem likely to happen. And in the realm of probability are higher tax payments this year through a speedup in collections, and maybe higher tax rates before the year is out.

Predictions that the climb in profits is petering out are based on an interpretation of the latest figures, rather than on the figures themselves.

Actual results show that in the final three months of 1965 manufacturers' net income after taxes advanced 15 per cent over their profits for the preceding quarter. The fourth quarter net earnings also were 16 per cent above the fourth quarter of 1964. This year-to-year gain was about the same as set up in each of the first three quarters of 1965.

With some companies advancing as much as 40 per cent in profits last year, what is the reasoning behind the predictions of a letdown?

In addition to the forces outlined earlier, the statisticians at the First National City Bank, New York, point to the season trends. They say the 19 per cent advance in the fourth quarter of 1965 from the July-September period was only slightly more than seasonal. That is, profits are usually highest in the final months, while the summer often sees a lag.

This only slightly more than seasonal advance at the end of the year is contrasted to a considerably more than usual advance in the April-June quarter and a much better than usual summer performance.

The moral the statisticians draw is that in the spring and summer profits were really swinging. But at year's end either the boom was tiring, or costs were mounting, or both.

Industry is still producing at near record levels in this first quarter of 1966. But what the stock market is wondering is: How much of the feverish activity is being turned into after-tax profits?
